OUR JANITORS

We, the seniors of 1931, wish to show our appreciation to Mr. Clover who has served us so we directly the test years. Control of the students at Hilbards High School.

By his sympathy and ever readiness to help he has established himself as a friend to all Boys appreate his interest in them. Girls know the value of one who is always ready to mend a brown heel or to find a valuable paper which has been lost in the waste paper basket

We must not forget his assistant, Mr. Brown, who has a smile for everyone. Though he has been with us just one year, we have learned to run to him for tacks, papers, hammers, or any other tool which we may need

We sincerely hope that both Mr. Clover and Mr. Brown may spend many more years with H. H. S., and that others may learn to value them as we have during our high school

CLASS HISTORY

One pleasant das about twelve years ago in the tall of 1919 began the long school career of about thirty two wee couldren. It is like a wonderful dream. Those eight years came and were gone much too soon. We really telt grown up when we became eighth graders. Under the leadership of our eighth grade teacher and principal, Mr. Wm. Shier, we organized an interesting Civic Club, having the pleasure of putting on some excellent (*) programs.

As we look back over our tour years' so ourn in H. H. S., there comes a full realization that ours has not been a glorious career, a triumphat march filled with bir hant victories and happiness. We have had our successes and happiness out we have also had our failures and sorrows.

Be that as it may. It was in the early part of September, 1927, that forty-five timorous, so the ascentilibrile of the section the cust subject discussion among the vain seph inners, triveling junets, and perspects senting. On that day when they assembled all of us in the study room and there to sweat to do and when to do it! After these first few days when we were sent to about ten different rooms by the upper classmen (and it was invariably the wring one with sea got there), our nervousness were offined we stirred in our with an their blissful state of knowing not, but not knowing that we knew not. It was about the fourth week when we held our first imortant meeting to organize and elect our officers. We remember that the Hartour. As a word out tresuman your was say a event, that we write glid when May and a long vacation came.

We were a solution in the beginning of the second year with a reason the sailing smoothly along it is not in itimespecies. At last we became juniors, although we had thought for the last three years that to be a partial with occasion of cur grasp. As union we neger to meet a part of the responsibility which comes from an increase in the affairs of the season rather rain a single case. I regetting the set tilling things which had crifice emeerned us, we joined hands with the fact to and those around us to battle in the interest of the common cause. Our junior play, "Come Out of the Kitchen," we term as being quite successful. In the late part of the year we chose our class ring.

We, as a class, have the distinction of listing five men who have won the coveted "H.". # CLASS PROPHECY

Located back in the beautiful Adirondack Mountains of old New York is a little town. Here I was presented to spend a few manners one of a very North and the state of the transfer of the state of the s

If at evening, as I sat before to big, upon bropine residing too back, my toughts we converge the property of the property of the second back home. The deep and property discovers to the only of the soft rusting of the tidl and master's pines which surrounded the odge. The fire in the little cast its bickering shadows throughout the room. Soon I became lost in sleep.

In the flames of the fire I saw the number 1951. What could it possibly mean? Voices and make seemed to come terro. The Citivedria, a large curen in New York City, appeared As I was ascirred and this beautiful punding. I heard organ misse. How sweet' How deep and me low the tene' Defore the organ I saw a girs with dark brown tresses. Her face was turned toward me. Where had I seen that face before? Ah, yes, it was no other than Frances Shriver.

Soon a new picture came torth. Into the chambers of the House of Representatives of the United States I was ushered. I scanned the faces there. The moment I glanced at the member who was then speaking. I recognized him. Crayman Wright had won a scat in the House where he was still arguing the prohibition question. How A used to argue about to it same question in Miss Beyer's civics class!

I was next ushered into a large gymnasium where a group of young men were practicing lasket see. A sound from the ceach's whistic prought all toe peak to his sid. Imagine my surprise when my grance was centered toward the coach, for it was fundles the Wolfe in person! Again the beys went out on the floor and started to practice a seting feels. The coach shoulded, 'Spap out of it Strider. Come on' Well, if it wasn't Paul, who had occount a twistudent at Yale after working for several years after his graduation!

A lawyer's office came into view. At a desk was seated a middle-aged man who with a nod of his head summoned his secretary. Surely the faces of both seemed familiar. Cer(Continued on next page.)

tainly the secretary was no other than Hilda Boge. Do you remember Mr. Immel, our commercial teacher at Hilliards High School? The eaterly man was soon recognized as he. His desire had been realized, for he had become a very successful lawyer.

In a school room I saw a group of small children gathered around a teacher, who was reading to them. How interested the children seemed to be!

"Please, Miss Wolpert, read one more story," they pleaded.

With a pleasant smile, she started to rend again. I wondered it the reacher was Josephile Wolpert. As the children moved to their seats and she arose, my question was answered.

A large in insign surrounded by massive trees and man, kinds of structures appealed. Inche figure with this mans in came are your feture the replaced saw a woman who was very maco interested in a book. A young child canar not the room. She can be to the woman afted her kind face. I at once recognized it as that of Martha Kathryn, who went with her daughter to another room.

"Fire sit down, mother, and listen to my new piece, which I want you to hear holder Mass Sanatz comes."

At the conclusion of the piece a young woman, who proved to be a music instructor, was shered in Is a servant. Martha Kathiyu left the room, and the music cosmo statted and the distribution of Cocola Sciarz. Then I was taken and instant on, where several other the dress were gathered around a governess, was proved to be H degarde Pennekamp.

At a targe swarming pose I noticed a sign on which was printed 'Summing Jessons. There must have been quite a number who were receiving instruction along this line.

"Attention!" called a feminine voice.

The students formed in a strught me. The teacher came torth and staired to shock. Don't ask me what she said I was completely lest in surprise when I found that the instruct it proved to be Ruth Margaret Schaus. Don't you remember her? She was tout girl with the red hair who used to play on our basketball team.

Fig. 1. A group of people were gethered a ling the shore of a day. I rest them came a great west was it in about? Soon a get was doing elped upon the shore. We to it have wish that the first had been declared the world's champion swimmer.

Another per to showed a cert was was acting as a madel in a leading clothing state at Cleve and Oh's On's one gance showed that this girl was Maye Hactt, who was graduated from H. H. S. in the class of '31.

Although the next scenes seemed strange, there was a note of familiar to imong them. You see, they were aid in the old home town, Hilliards, which now had a population of about 5 000. No way was afforded to explain this rapid growth. The second abuse was the one of my school days. What do you if ink and succeeded Mr. Claver is junitor? David Breese. In the physics laboratory I found Leona Rogers as teacher.

In the down town sect on I noticed a sign— 'Garage'. As I entered the office here, the face of the person at the desk looked fam dar. Well, if it wasn't limit e Weaver, who had become Chevrelet dealer in his old nome town. I'm showed me around over the garage. Imagine my surprise and amazement when I found Garlent Roberts working as a me, rank in the garage.

Turther exploration of the town teld me the fate of several other old friends and class mates. Filling the office of mayor wis Glessner Birke, who had served several terms as representative in the General Assembly of Ohio. Because of his strong influence he had secured the passage of several bills which have become very important laws.

from a conversation I heard much discussion about several real estate transactions which had taken place recently. Every new and tien I heard the name Graumlich. Only a temminate more told me that Hamild Graumlich had become a very successful real estate dealer.

Two gar's The ma Weber and Isabe e I ive, had gene into pasiness for themse ves. Toelma was operating a beauty parlor and Isabelle a tea room.

In the next scene I saw sitting before a telephone board a woman. I did not think that couldn't be Geraldine Bowser, could it? Yes, it was she.

The scene changed to a love y farm come. Going about her datas I saw a young woman. I heard tootsteps approaching. The door was opened and in walked Clarence backer. The woman was no criter than his sister. Godys. They had aved on this farm since their graduation. Clarence spoke, "Had I better sell those prize hogs?"

Gladys answered in her pleasing way: "It is all right with me, if you care to." Clarence and Gladys had both become prominent members of several farm organizations.

The next scene was find in a large basiless school. The east class that I saw it. I sa

During her time as an aviatrix she had broken several records.

The next moment I was in a large stadium. At the sound of a gun the air was filled with the roar of motorcycles. One, two, three, four, five times around the track they went. Always the same one was ahead of the others. When it came time to award the trophy the winner and the riding posts, stepped forth. I thought the voice of the mage second form it. A moment more that he is wis that of Walting Parsay. I thought I heard the name of Correst Converse. As the winner reached for the cup. I know I had not been dreaming for it was Curney who had received the silver cup.

In a pospetil I saw a mase who was bringing cheer to excisone there. S'e step, ed to administer to all. A chidish voice called, "Parise, Miss McPherson, may I have a dam?" Florence, who was the nurse, replied, "Certainly."

The next scene showed Marx to Lat am operating a large restaurant at His fen Fills. Nature called many people here each year.

THE NEW SCHOOL BUILDING

"Progress and civilization move on a thousand fronts." In order that our high school should rink as a first grade against on the poard it edicate and the pigger of cartiers of this district decided to remode the eld building. How well this has been accombined may be seen when you study the exterior view and the floor plan of this ingeniously proportioned ago school. Hands the and we included in external with a spaceous and thought ally pair a dimensor, tree building is a marvelous example at what can be done by a skilled area, teet. It has dignity, it has expression, and most important of all it is extremely roomy and comfortable. It would be hard to discover a better remodeled building with so many outstanding advantages.

The school has been advanced by having the new equipment, more conveniences for the students, and increased student capacity.

The new high school was about completed at the opening of school, September 14.

Hilliards had suddenly awakened to find a dream come true. The new high school was a restry for the past year many and been watering the action so stong of the list we shall the physical embodiment of the hopes and desires of those who have had the vision to see it through to its completion.

The dedication of the building was an event singularly individual in character when compared will these it similar test atoms. The doors were opined and the people warmed in dedicating the harding by the presence and their interest. Lease will have a sore the grand furth any feet to be requested for the examination response of the examination reduces was given by Dr. Coppinger of Orientein Cologe, before a time and appreciative audience.

Let us enter the hall through the main entrance, which faces the west. To our left is a door opining into the introduct the addition unit, which is a scatting with the four of a lead and the cut and is a soping floor. Sometimed with giving got diff some an analysis lustre, and breathing gentility and distinction, are displayed here.

At the front to the north is the large elevated stage, across the front of which there is a beautiful blue velvet curtain.

Here every Friday, an assembly is held by one of the six grades, which creates a closer union of all the classes. The Parent and Teacher Association meetings and many other social activities of the community are held here.

The stage and gymnasium, which are combined, are separated by gray curtains when required. The gym has all the equipment needed for gym classes and basketball.

The balcony in the auditorium, which has a seating capacity of two hundred, is used for a study hall every period of the day. Every other chair has an arm, which can be put up or down when needed.

Back of the balcony is the library. Around this room there are many rows of shelves filled with books. There are also tables and chairs for the readers' convenience.

At the end of the corridor is the science laboratory. It has equipment for physics, general science, hiology, and chemistry, and will seat thirty-two pupils. It has individual tables equipped with sinks, gas and electrical attachments.

South of this we have the room known as Miss Beyers' room, in which are taught history, Latin, and civics. West of this is what is known as Mr. Immel's room, which is equipped with typewriters. Shorthand and commercial arithmetic are taught here. Next to this is known as Miss M has room were the first second thaid and fourth years at largest raught.

Let us now look at the rooms on the first floor which are used for home economics. The first is a sewing room. There are eight tables for class work, which may be used for the cafeteria at noon. At one end of this room is a serving counter.

THE SCIENCE LABORATORY

The saperators is equipped for the following sciences biology, possies chemistry, and gin eral science. All of these are taught here with the exception of chemistry.

As you enter the room from the hall, you can see one of the best equipped laboratories in the state. The new equipment, which was put in before school began, is divided into two main parts. In the front of the room there are sixteen desks, eight on each side with an aisle through the middle. A large sink with water and gas fixtures is between every two desks. Toward the back there are tables and chairs for sixteen. Thus, the whole room has a seating capacity of thirty-two. The tables are used for class work and for working experiments.

In the front there is a large desk of the same type for the teacher. There are three cabinets in all, two of which hold the supplies used in experiments, and one in which manuals are kept.

Each pupil keeps a note book of manual in which different experiments are recorded. The experiments are laws and principles which have been formed by noted scent sts. Some are problems pertaining to every day life, well-e others are not. Some of the experiments which we have worked in physics are liquid pressure, inclined plane, and other levers, pumps, etc.

In biology the class has made a balanced aquarium. Different ones collected fish and other water animals for this. Two days of each week are devoted to laboratory exercises.

A laboratory not only makes a course in science more interesting but also helps one to understand the laws and principles more thoroughly.

TOMORROW.

What will there be Tomorrow For us who soon must go Into the world to travel, Alike with friend and foe? Tomorrow, which is creeping. Is creeping on us all. As we go gaily marching Within this silent hall Today will soon be vanished. Today so gay and free Must give place to Tomorrow. The future that we see Afar is yet so near us.

A step across the way,
We who'll be men and women
Are children yet today—
Glad happy carefree children,
Who, reckless in our glee,
Plunge on forever heedless
Of dangers that must be.
What will Tomorrow offer
I as we study cooms
And for these trees

Set by the ones who often
Must stern and cranky be?
What will Tomorrow bring us?
What must our future be?
We do not know the answer,
We cannot guess aright,
We only know we're trusting
In Fate to lead us right
And what she comes to offer
We'll take and never sigh,

And the same is a larger to the same is a larger to

The officers and the standing committees met the week before school to plan the program for the year. Between fitteen and twenty Cir. Reserve casinet members and advisors spent the night in Beach Cottage and planned the activities for the club.

Early in October, a very beautiful recognition service was held at the high school gymnasium. There were about twenty-five new girls taken in. Mothers of the Girl Reserves were our guests

At Hallowe'en time the Girl Reserves, with the Hi-Y boys as guests, held a Hallowe'en party at the high school. There were prizes given to the most commenty dressed couples, and also to the best dressed couples.

At Cristmas time the Girl Reserves, with the aid of the El. Y, give to rie poor a Wester Gift offering

After we had sung at many houses, we were served with refreshments by the Masons.

The Valentine party was held at the high school. We were entertained by many games and served with refreshments in the home economics room.

In April we held the biggest event of the year. The Girl Reserves, their mothers, fathers, advisors, and faculty held a banquet at the high school gymnasium.

At the end of the school year the other Girl Reserves will give the senior Girl Reserves a farewell party.

The chief advisor of the club is Miss Beyer. The others are Miss Mohr, Miss Rether, Mrs. C. W. Latham, Mrs. C. G. McCann, Mrs. E. O. Bolender, Mrs. M. D. Hartsook, and Mrs. D. L. Strausbaugh.

HILLIARDS CHAPTER F. F. A.

The national organization of the Future Farmers of America was organized late in 1928 and is made up of vocational agriculture boys throughout the United States. The Green Hund, I mure I irmer State I armer, and American I irmer degrees are obtained by boxs of the organization. Scholars up, princet work and other outside activities largely determine the oliginality to any of the above degrees, the last two coming only through state and national election.

The Hilliards Chapter became a member of this organization in May, 1929, and since the time has a condimany cutstanding events. During too assistant, the following names were the winning at the American Farmer degree at Kaisas City by I no Spring, a $ 40 scholarship by Ernest Renner, who was first in our district of two hundred boys; A Ton I tier by Chronic Proper which entitled aim to a good modification membership in the Ohio I on I itter Chib, third propen State Mick Ledging contest, by a term with a posited of Tom Van Schoyck, Pearl Zimmer, Glessner Burke, and Robert Seed

The officers of our F. F. A. are: president, Clarence Parker; vice-president, Glessner Burke, secretary, Tom Van Schoyck; treasurer, David Breese.

The creed of the F. F. A. follows:

"I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds—achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better trings we now entire nave come up to us from the struggles of former years.

"I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the this and discon forts of term life and hald an inborn fordness for those assistations which, even in hours of discouragement, I cannot deny.

"I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the to lity of eigens, ed farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our to. I believe we can satisficant these rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

"I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so—for others as well as myself; in less need for a prity and more of it when needed, in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

"I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task."

HOME ECONOMICS

As home economics is a subject that deals with the problems of the house and other institutions whose problems are all of a similar nature, it includes a study of food, clothing, and white them for some part of the problems are all of a similar nature, it includes a study of food, clothing, and white the first hould be able; first, to prepare meals which will satisfy the needs of a family; second, to know the construction of garments and the selection and care of clothing; third, to have an interchation of a large contented downer, there is to know the problems of the sick.

The Senior Home Economics Club has the following officers: president, Verna Sawyers; vice-president, Edna Burke; secretary and treasurer, Mae Elhott. The monthly meetings consist of a program by the class or an outside speaker.

The cent to longer Home for the Call has been regarded, and the characteristics are: president, Audrey Pursley; vice-president, Evelyn Henry; secretary and treasurer, Lucile Rogers.

THE CAFETERIA

We are proud of our new cafeteria. The color scheme of green and cream is carried out in the new equipment. The girls, when serving, wear green head-bands and aprons. The cafeteria serves approximately one hundred persons each day, with a menu suitable for a growing child

The cafeteria is quite an enjoyable place to work in this year due to the new equipment and its convenient arrangement. To be qualified to help with food preparation one must be a second year home economics girl, have no failing grades, and utilize only study periods for working

The meals are suitable, due to the management of Miss Rether, our home economics teacher, and to the splendid cooperation of Mrs. Bruerd, with the assistance of the second year home economics girls

BASKETBALL NEWS.

In larger the Hillards baskets, team started to play oaskerball the ther in the 8 kth grade of error school. If so two boxs are a min the known as DeWolfe and Borke. I tay continued playing a get, in and in too cig th grade met two more of their contrades of the 1930-1931 team. Those two boys were Weaver and Love. Love was met in a different way then Weaver I ove was met as a rival playing on the Ambin Grade School team while Weaver was met as a fellow player playing on Hilliards Grade School team.

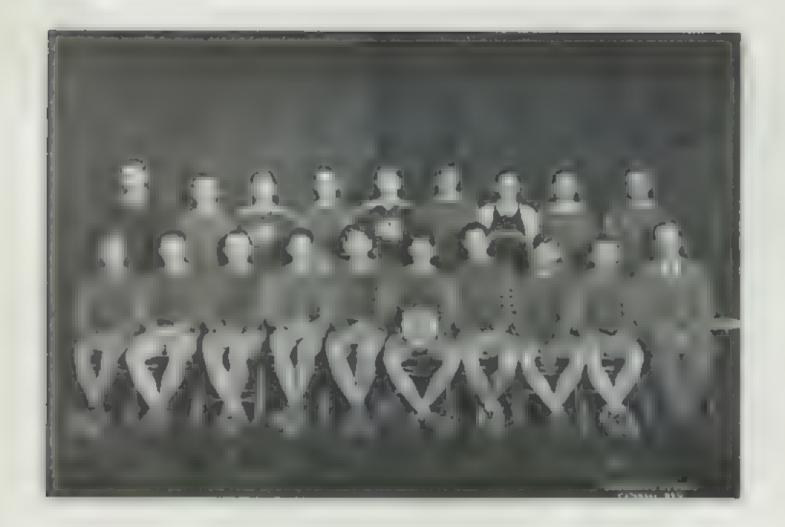

The boys then started to high school. The first year the three boys made the team. Love did not make it as he was still in gride school but as made the team his first year of right school. The boys continued playing rightness year after year not doing so well the first two years.

In the years of 1930-1931 the boys met a new man, a Columbus boy who was none other than Harry Koco, our guard on the 1930-1931 year's team. So you can see those four boys had a last of team players throughout their career. As the board of education suspended gark' basker of an our whole, too high school produced two ooys teams under the instruction of our cauch, Glorn Inimel. The first team played a total of seventeen games, I sing one game by a score of 2021. The second team played eleven games, I sing one by 2 points in an overtice butter. An eight they failed to win the Leink in County Thurnament, they won the considerent by deterting Circus City 21.25. That is a record for my Hillings team to shoot at. The Hillings team loses three of their boys due to graduation. They are DeWorte, Barke, and Weiver, Killings will be very good bet us hip either in the good.

FRANKLIN HONOR SOCIETY

Hartsook, Thelma Weber '31, Hilda Boge '31, Elizabeth Converse '32

131, Joe Collinson '32, Louise Walcutt '32, Harry Wuertz '31 and Mary Bruerd '32

The purpose of the Frank in Elemon Society is to create in enth sasm to a solitis to stimulate the desire to resident service, promote leaders up and develope of tracter in the boys and girls of the secondary schools of Frank in County. To be considered by membership a scholar must rank in the upper third of his or her class in scholarship.

This year, members of this society have greatly enjoyed two banquets, one at Grove City in October 25th, and one at Canal Winchester on February 11. At the meeting at Grove City, Dr. John I. Cotton state director of education, speke to as Dr. Coppinger of Office bein College gave the address at the other banquet

These chosen to the first semester were Margaret Dominy. The ma Weter Le in Rogers and Kete Balled from the Class of 31 and Louise Walcutt and Fleato th Converse from pextiveres class Tosepoine Walpert, El Ha Boge, John Wesley Winterringer, Rata Margaret Schaub, and Harry Winter were chosen from the senior class for the last somester, and Joe Collinson and Mary Bruerd from the junior class.

Joe Collinson is president of the society for next year. This year Mirgarit Demins served as sentinel.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT.

In our commercial form, especially arranged for the typing and sorthand classes we tree the privilege of using sixteen typowriters of various makes. Rowal, Underwood 1. C. Smit and Renungton. In the junior class of twenty two students the average speed in typing is twenty two wirds per minute. In the sensin class of ten students the average speed in typing is botty five words per minute, and the average dictation in shorthand is one handrid words per minute. The bookkeeping class of twenty-two students has finished one of its sets.

The students who have left the commercial department of our school have been very successful in securing positions after graduation.

The number of students who enrol, in the compercial department proves the popularity of this course.

MANUAL TRAINING DEPARTMENT

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

As we have never before in previous years had an adequate place in which the whole school could assemble, we have taken advantage of the wonderful opportunity which we have this year by daying a partial of general assembly once a week, which is usually the little period on Friday.

The students enter the auditorium as a march is played on the piano by some pupil. After tit country' that i are tall thown the aide and placed in the stage, the assembly rises, single the "Star Shipped Bartier" and gives the Podge of Allegiance to the Ling, which is led by Boy Scott. The Student's Creed is given in time in a Scripture is read a prayer is intered by a student, and a selected song, led by Mr. Hiltyn is sung by the assembly.

This concludes the ritual part of the assembly period and the remainder of the time is devoted to a program which is presented in turn by each grade.

Dar open a vent we have leard man, intersting and instructive programs, who were referred in every well a not had consistent such as National Fre Proceeding Week. National I to atom Week Laurese ving Day Health Week Temperature Day and Wishington's and Lincoln's Birthdays.

Each class was allowed to secure an outside speaker for one of its programs during the year. We have been most tertunate in being able to near most the runs. Some of the speakers have been Mr. Joseph Lurk a Car War veteran, the Rev. H. J. Mann, the Rev. Greene, a former slave and Civil War veteran; and Mr. Elton Kile.

I am sure that everyone will agree that the time spent in this period has been not only very interesting but also educational.

STUDENT'S CREED.

"I believe in honest work, in generous comradeship, in the courage of high convictions. I believe in the inspiration that comes from contact with all that is truest and best in books, in people, in life. I believe in loyalty to our high school, the fostering mother of these ideals, and I pledge her my allegiance in all her undertakings; in all that will make her a stronger and nobler school."

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

As Mrs. Class, Sr., was busily trying to Frye potatoes for supper, a gentle Breese blew in at the window and cooled her flushed face.

"Here, Mary Jo, take these plates to the dining room and be careful how you Latham. Robert's coming to supper tonight."

Just then serve he knocked it the dear. I as to segat it was in agent but it was a Beser for eggs. They had only three dozen, and the lady wanted Mohr.

"I am sorry, said Mrs Cass St. 'reat my Dominy k bens are not as ng better. Elle of to be more careful with their feed. She must learn the Wright way to care for them."

Again there was lead applying at the door. It is opened it and there stood in Italian organ grinder, very much excited.

"Oh, Mees!" he cried, I lose-a de bear and I hun-a heem in the woods and I meet-a DeWolfe! I am scared-a to death!"

"Thir is all very well " said Mrs. Class, Sr., with digitity, "out which you speak to a lady you should Bow-see!"

"I er me lisk for the poet nones work said Paul. You know I have always been a good Strider."

"Well, you may go as far as the Lane. Roger's going, too. But run fast if you happen to see a Bogel And now I must prepare the Pursley for supper."

Again the door spenishe and this time it was one dung ter. Gladys coming home from school.

"On, Cades of editer matter. I am so surprised. I a ways too got you were my good little daughter, but I hear you are a Parker!"

"And don't deny it, either," said her brother, Gilbert, "because I Zwayer!"

But peace was restored in the ramily when Gredys said. I'd Retor not be a Parker in the future,"

Martha Katherme, being a fast Walker, came hurnedly in.

"Did you crar those Scotte" see Badard in a and voice. "I say the kaled the Walte."

"I scuse me, but My teers est we come, sighted Raymend. I can i pear to see damo animals killed."

"Wait I must Converse with you mout some besiness," said Curney who hid a st entered "Have any strangers Bynn-er today?"

"Yes," replied Martha Katherine. "A man came here who called himself a Weaver. I guess he's weaving a Web-er something like that."

Just then Mrs. Class. St., came weards in The striket could be seen this ago the window, casting its glow upon her tired face.

"I am so thankful this busy day is over," said she, smiling wistfully. "But we must get a me rest in order to prepare ourselves for a new dis. May you test well. Good night."

GRADUATION ONLY A BEGINNING.

When a senior is thout to graduate from high school he lets himself dream over the years of his school course. He remembers the first day at Hilliards, when everything seemed so strange new studies, new teachers, new teachers he pupils. It was probably not long before he perame discouraged the studies seemed so hard, the teachers appeared as rapidly they were intended to make life hard. He remembers the examinations; they, too, were hard.

But commencement day has arrived. He has passed a the pitfalls, and he now realizes that lessons and examinations all were comparatively easy and the teachers always his best friends. In school he is a semior, in life a freshman.

Deelya and Rosaline.

IN MEMORY OF DEELYA FARRINGTON

Another blossom has faded.

Another companion's gone.

And Deelya, our own sweet comrade.

To another realm has flown

O God, how our hearts are aching.

The pain we cannot allay.

And oh, how we weep for Deelya,

The pal who was called away.

Why was it death called our darling?
Why was it she went to sleep,
Away from all those who love her,
And left us to mourn and weep?
A schoolmate as gay and happy
As she we never will find,
So merey and full of laughter,
So trustworthy, sweet, and kind

The dearest of all companions,
A pal we could really claim.
A joy to the school was Deelva,
So ready for any game;
I for vision will never leave us.
Our grief can never depart,
The place must be left vacant
In life where she played a part.

In life where she played a part.

O God in Thy starry kingdom,
Bless those who are left alone.

Who mourn for the loss of Deelya,
Who knew that she was their own.

Reserve a place for our comrade
In Thy realm of love on high,

Bring us face to face with Deelya
In that far off bye and bye.

LUELLA FRANCE.

IN MEMORY OF ROSALINE CARTER

like a blow to the school of Hilliards Came the news of a comrade's death, For a schoolmate had gone before us To that land where there is no death. Now the place where she sat is vacant, And the room seems so big and bare; It is hard to gaze at the picture And not see her sweet face there, Laughing and talking and telling jokes, As we knew that she used to do When she was among us here in school. Oh her laughter, it rang so true. And we never will cease to miss her, That companion of by-gone years; Oh, the pain in our hearts can't lessen, And our eyes, how they fill with teats; Oh, we miss her, the gay companion, And may God in His kingdom there, Take her into the fold of Jesus, Where the Good Shepherd will prepare A place for the one we're missing. That we're grieving for more and more; She'll meet us in glory, we know it, Somewhere on a bright, golden shore.

of every risk you are likely to encounter in your daily life, you wouldn't have fingers and toes enough on which to tie them. Every sensible man, however, should take time occasionally to check up on his insurance coverage. Be sure you are protected against loss. The slight cost of such insurance will be more than repaid by your peace of mind and sense of security.

"One picture is worth ten thousand words."

—Chinese Proverb.

This photograph shows a contrast in sweet clover. The fence is the dividing line between an excellent stand of sweet clover and a pasture that has never been treated with himing material, and says more of limestone than could be told in ten thousand words.
